

HEALTHCARE PROFESSIONAL PROGRAM

Your patient is interested in working with you using supplements and protocols created by Dr. James L. Wilson for stress. Access to these protocols and supplements at wholesale prices, along with other clinically useful guides, educational aids and information is open to all healthcare practitioners and simply requires joining the Healthcare Professional Program offered by ICA Health. Dr. Wilson established ICA Health to serve other healthcare professionals experiencing the need for clinically effective tools and programs that work naturally, but reliably. His clinically targeted dietary supplements and protocols for stress are exclusively produced by ICA Health under the Doctor Wilson's Original Formulations[®] brand. They are used and trusted by thousands of pharmacies and healthcare providers worldwide. As a scientist and clinician, Dr. Wilson lectures extensively to medical audiences around the world. He is the author of Adrenal Fatigue: The 21st Century Stress Syndrome and coined the term adrenal fatigue to describe a distinct physiological pattern commonly related to stress.
